

At STIRLING the 12. of June 1645.

Orfameikle as the Committee of Estates Taking to their serious consideration, The many practices and endeavours used against this Kingdom, by some unnaturall Countrey-men and Traitors, joynd with Irish Rebels within the same; And by the Armies that are preparing in Ireland and England for subversion of Religion, did by their Act of the 28. of March last, give warning thereof to the Shires, That they might have their Forces in readinesse upon advertisement. And the Committee now finding the dangers that threaten this Kingdom, still to continue, and a pressing necessity of the raising of some Forces for strengthening the Armies, and enabling them to encounter their Enemies abroad. And being confident, That all who are zealous of Religion, the honour of their Native Countrey, and their own safety, will heartily concur herein: And rather send out their own Forces to meet the Enemy, nor lye still while the Countrey be over-run, and themselves, and their Families destroyed at their own Doors; Have therefore thought fit, Statute and Ordained, That the whole Shires under-written, and Burrows within the same, and Committees of Warre thereof, Shall presently leavy and raise the number of men following, and have them in readinesse, furnished with eight dayes provision: And that they deliver them to these Officers that shall come from the Generall, to receive them for making up of their Regiments, betwixt and the 4. of July next, under the pains contained in the Acts made concerning the former Leavies, and farther to be esteemed and censured as betrayers of the Kingdom and Cause in hand. The numbers to be as followeth: The Sherifffdoms of Roxburgh and Selkirk, 1000 Foot, whereof 400. for recruiting Colonell Scots Regiment: 400. for the Earle of Lowthians Regiment in England: And 200. for the Master of Cranstouns Regiment: The Sherifffdom of Berwick, 600.
